

WELCOME ABOARD

Sanjay Gupta, MD, specializes in psychiatry and is the chair of the Geriatric Mental Health program at BryLin. He completed his medical education at Maulana Azad Medical College; a clerkship at Harvard Medical School; and a residency in psychiatry at SUNY Upstate Medical Center. He is a member of the Niagara Psychiatric Association in Amherst.

Corine S. Kaufman, MD, specializes in physical medicine and rehabilitation. She completed her medical education at SUNY Buffalo, School of Medicine and a residency at SUNY Buffalo Consortium – Rehab. She recently completed a fellowship in physical medicine and rehabilitation at the Buffalo Spine & Sports Institute, where she now practices.

Rizwan Khan, MD, is a cardiologist with a practice in Niagara Falls. He recently joined the internal medicine department at Kenmore Mercy. He completed his medical education from Rawalpindi Medical College; his residency at Caritas St. Elizabeth's Medical Center; and a fellowship at Lahey Clinic Hospital.

Semira Khawar, MD, recently joined Ken-Ton FamilyCare. She completed her medical education at the Fatima Jinnah Medical College for Women and a residency in family medicine, her specialty, at Niagara Falls Memorial.

Jafar W. Siddiqui, MD, is a member of the Brain & Spine Center in Amherst. He completed his medical education at Spartan Health Sciences University; residencies in internal medicine and physician medicine and rehabilitation at Rush University Medical Center Program; and a fellowship in Spinal and Skeletal Pain Medicine. He specializes in physical medicine and rehabilitation and interventional pain management.

Roger Walcott, MD, is a SUNY Buffalo, School of Medicine graduate. He also completed a fellowship at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center. Dr. Walcott is a member of the Vascular & Endovascular Center of Western New York and will have an office at the medical office building behind Kenmore Mercy.

WELCOME ABOARD is a publication of the Kenmore Mercy Hospital Public Relations Department. For more information, call (716) 447-6279 or visit www.chsbuffalo.org.