

2023  The Foundations of Catholic Health

GRATITUDE

REPORT

Continuing & Home Care Foundation • Kenmore Mercy Foundation • Mercy Hospital Foundation
Mount St. Mary's Hospital Foundation • Sisters Hospital Foundation

On behalf of the Foundations of Catholic Health, it is my honor and privilege to present the 2023 Gratitude Report highlighting our five Foundations.

More than a year into my tenure as president and CEO of Catholic Health, I am pleased to report on the progress made by our foundations in coming together with one goal – exceptional patient care. Unification of the foundations into one Foundation of Catholic Health will strengthen efficiencies to better support our hospitals, medical staff and the community as a whole. A recent survey of stakeholders demonstrated that this approach is recommended to streamline business practices and enhance responsible stewardship of donor funds.

While the process of approval for one foundation is underway, we are already strategically planning and making changes that will benefit our commitment to the right way to care. For example, this past year for the first time, the foundations came together to celebrate Catholic Health's Annual Gala, marking 25 years since the health care system's founding. You can read more in these pages about the work of each of the Foundations this past year as unification moves forward.

We could not do the work we do without the shared commitment of our benefactors, board members, physicians, associates and supporters like you who join together to help carry out the Catholic Health mission – focused on the human side of healthcare.

Thank you for your continued support of the Foundations of Catholic Health.

Warmest Regards,

Joyce Markiewicz

Life-saving care around the corner.

“Dr. Knott himself came and spoke to me, taking the time to explain
everything and patiently
answering my questions.”
–Karen

Knott and Dr. Brewer at Kenmore Mercy

Dan and Karen Wiles have lived their entire lives in Kenmore-Tonawanda, including 42 years of marriage, raising two children, and busy careers. So, they certainly know Kenmore Mercy Hospital. They didn't know that one day the nearby hospital would save Karen's life.

Karen was experiencing severe stomach pain and the couple hurried to the emergency department at Kenmore Mercy. She was quickly taken for an ultrasound and CAT scan which revealed a perforated bowel.

Within a couple of hours, she was in the operating room for emergency surgery by Dr. Liam Knott. Needless to say, Dan was scared and anxious. Then one of the surgical nurses came into the waiting room halfway through the procedure to share an update.

“Her compassionate, positive attitude calmed me down, Dan says. “When the surgery was done, Dr. Knott himself came and spoke to me, taking the time to explain everything and patiently answering my questions.”

After surgery, Karen was admitted to the ICU under the care of nurses, staff, and Dr. Thomas Brewer, a critical care specialist. Dan recalls that Dr. Brewer was especially reassuring, and always took the time to communicate Karen's progress.

Karen continues to recover and looks forward to getting back to a normal life. The couple stresses their gratitude for the exceptional care they experienced at Kenmore Mercy.

A family tradition

In the mid-1980s, Katie Juhasz was visiting her father in Kenmore Mercy Hospital after his surgery for cataracts when Sister Ellen Mahon, the hospital administrator, came in to see him. Without prompting from Katie, her dad, Kenneth Koessler, told Sister Ellen that his daughter would like to volunteer at Kenmore Mercy.

"I had talked with him about volunteering somewhere, but not at Kenmore Mercy, so I was a little surprised," Katie recalls. "But he was so impressed with the care at the hospital, he felt it would be a good fit."

Nearly 40 years later, Katie and the Koessler family continue to be steadfast supporters of Kenmore Mercy. Katie's mom Katharine created the Koessler Family Foundation after her husband had passed. For decades, the foundation has generously donated to key initiatives at Kenmore Mercy including the emergency department and intensive care unit (ICU) renovation projects, as well as continuing support of the annual Tribute to Angels Gala. The hospital named an area in the ER and a section of the visitor entryway in honor of the Koessler family.

Katie has stayed connected to Kenmore Mercy since her first days of volunteering in the pharmacy and outpatient surgery unit. She currently serves as president of her family's foundation and is an emeritus member of the Kenmore Mercy Foundation board of directors.

"It seems every member of the Koessler family except me has been a patient at Kenmore Mercy and they all said what wonderful care they received," Katie concludes. "It's a place close to all of our hearts."

Compassionate care reflected in a smile.

"I truly believe she was letting us know how much she appreciated the palliative care she had received at Mount St. Mary's Hospital."
-Bob

Dr. Sarina Bax-DeBiao, palliative care services

A few minutes before she passed away, Bob Jeswald's mother gave him and his family a reassuring smile.

"I truly believe she was letting us know how much she appreciated the palliative care she had received at Mount St. Mary's Hospital," Bob said.

His mother, Elaine, was hospitalized with a number of issues that led to a rapid deterioration in her health. Bob works as a chief meteorologist in Columbus, Georgia, and upon hearing from Dr. Sarina Bax-DeBiao that his mother was nearing end of life, he arranged to get back home as quickly as possible. In the meantime, Dr. Bax-DeBiao kept the family up to date on the phone until Bob could get there.

Bob said his family's experience with the palliative care team at Mount St. Mary's was nothing short of amazing. Dr. Bax-DeBiao explained the concept of palliative care, keeping Elaine comfortable while extending emotional and spiritual support to the family.

Elaine passed away peacefully with dignity and zero pain surrounded by her loved ones. The family said her smile before her passing was her tribute to Dr. Bax-DeBiao and the staff at Mount St. Mary's. They realize now how important palliative care is for the patient, and their families.

A life-changing visit

California resident Elaine Yox was visiting her brother in Niagara Falls, NY when she began showing symptoms of a stroke. Her brother called 911 and paramedics rushed her to the closest NYS designated stroke center at Mount St. Mary's Hospital. Dave Farmer, PA & Jim Weinke, RN, treated Elaine right away and administered an injection of TPA, a stroke medication that must be given within the first few hours of symptoms. Elaine says that saved her life.

"I am still in awe every day of how the paralysis on my left side seemed to lift from my body as they gave me the medication," Elaine recalls. "My doctors back in California were so impressed by the time-sensitive care I received at Mount St. Mary's."

Elaine spent a couple of days in the ICU but was soon up and walking. She says she was released on a Monday and had no problem flying back to California on a Wednesday. Elaine has generously donated to the Mount St. Mary's Foundation as a way of thanking the doctors and nurses at the hospital. Her support helped the hospital fund purchases of new equipment for the stroke center that will help in enhancing efficiency in the care of patients.

"My experience with the care at Mount St. Mary's was beyond outstanding, from the ER to the doctors, especially Dr. Sambuchi, who stopped by daily to check in on me," Elaine concludes. "Thanks to them, I am looking forward to future visits with my brother."

Time is critical when it comes to stroke care. When every second counts, you can count on Mount St. Mary's to provide life saving care, right in our community.

"My doctors back in California were so impressed by the care I received at Mount St. Mary's."

Doctor recommended; patient approved.

"I could have gone anywhere, but I was really impressed from the moment I consulted with
Dr. Egnatchik."
-Doug

Doug Bean, grateful patient

Most of us would agree, life can sometimes be a pain in the neck. For Doug Bean, that sentiment was becoming much too real.

An MRI revealed compression in Doug's neck that would require surgery. Doctors told him the slightest accident or injury to his neck could cause life altering damage. So, he and his wife began to ask around for recommendations on a surgeon.

Doug's wife is a surgical nurse, and he works in communications with clients in the medical community – they had access to great resources for advice. It seemed anyone they asked, named the same neurosurgeon, Dr. James Egnatchik.

"I could have gone anywhere, but I was really impressed from the moment I consulted with Dr. Egnatchik," Doug said. "The surgery would be complicated, yet I felt like I was in well-qualified hands, and he was so supportive."

Dr. Egnatchik performed the surgery at Mercy Hospital and Doug recalls the same level of professionalism and caring among the nurses and other hospital staff. All went well with the procedure, and Doug was home after just a couple of nights at Mercy.

Doug is back to work and enjoying life in his hometown of Buffalo. He said the entire experience made him realize how fortunate we are to have medical professionals at Mercy Hospital, right here in Western New York to care for us.

Friends and family support

Finding joy in helping others, David Sullivan created the Sullivan Family Foundation to support the underserved in the community. A native of Buffalo, New York, David lived his last days in Florida and asked his long-time friend Leonard Law to continue his philanthropic Foundation upon his passing.

As trustee of the Foundation, Leonard now identifies and carefully selects organizations he knows David would find impactful. Mercy Hospital is grateful to have made that list.

After speaking with Dr. Lee-Kwen, a board-certified neurologist at Mercy Hospital, Leonard donated to the hospital's Stroke Center with funding for continued stroke education and life-saving equipment. He also supported Mercy Hospital's CT scanner project to bring new, state-of-the-art scanners to the emergency department. The support is already making an impact for stroke patients and the medical professionals who care for them.

"All the trustees of the Foundation agreed that David's heart would resonate with this donation," says Leonard. "It is an honor to continue David's commitment to helping the community in ways that can enhance health care and save lives."

The installation of two new CT scanners in the emergency department allows for faster response to our patients. Mercy Hospital is the only stroke center in Buffalo that has received the nation's highest and most-demanding designation from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, as a Comprehensive Stroke Center (CSC).

"It is an honor to continue David's commitment to helping the community in ways that can enhance health care and save lives."

Two miracles with one-of- a-kind care.

"Every doctor, nurse, and medical professional at Sisters NICU gave our daughters the individualized attention they needed."

-The Mura Family

Grateful patients, Ryan and Chanel with their daughters, Penelope and Valentina

Ryan and Chanel had always believed in miracles. But recently, they were witnesses to a miracle firsthand . . . two, in fact!

Their little miracles, twin girls Penelope and Valentina, were born prematurely and remained in the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) at Sisters Hospital for months. During that time, the couple said they came to learn that their precious daughters were in the hands of some of the most caring and compassionate caregivers in Western New York.

"Every doctor, nurse, and medical professional at Sisters NICU gave our daughters the individualized attention they needed," they said. "We felt like family when Lauren Davidson, DO, spent the early morning hours comforting us; and when Diana Huang, MD, spent her entire night at our twins' bedside during a particularly difficult time."

Today, the girls are thriving and full of personality, charisma and energy. The couple said they felt strongly compelled to highlight the superheroes who helped to make their precious gifts possible. They noted many others at Sisters, from specialists and nurses to the chaplain and other staff, who made them feel as if they were the most important family in the NICU.

A light of hope

Justin Waclawak wanted to create something good out of a terrible tragedy.

In 2019, Justin's wife, Alison Rose, passed away while giving birth to their daughter, Ada Rose. Allison had a rare and often fatal condition called Amniotic Fluid Embolism. Ada survived and continues to be a bright light of hope for Justin and his family. With his little girl as inspiration, Justin, family members and close friends created the Alison Rose Foundation in hopes that other families would not experience similar heartbreak.

The Alison Rose Foundation has raised more than $200,000 since its inception to support research and education about Amniotic Fluid Embolisms, to help lower maternal death rates and promote maternal and baby health. Last year, the foundation generously donated to the Labor and Delivery team at Sisters Hospital where Ada was born, with the funding earmarked for education and training for staff.

"My family and I realized that a tragedy like this affects everyone involved including the nurses and staff who could not have been more helpful," Justin says. "The donation is our way of helping these dedicated caregivers while honoring Alison's memory."

The Alison Rose Foundation raises funds with several events throughout the year including an annual golf tournament. Sisters Hospital recently planted rose bushes and unveiled a plaque dedicated to Alison and Ada in the Heritage Gardens on campus.

Blueprint for successful healing.

"Joe is an ace PT and had answers to everything I needed, taking a very careful approach to healing while showing me exercises to strengthen my new hip"
-James

Joe Baumgarden, PT with
James Dewald, grateful patient

As a union carpenter, James DeWald worked on major construction projects throughout Western New York, including the expansion of the St. Joseph Campus of Sisters Hospital in Cheektowaga.

Years of carpentry work and carrying sheets of drywall had taken a toll. When James visited his primary physician for hip pain, he was told he would need a total hip replacement. After surgery by Dr. Michael Ostempowski, at the St. Joseph campus, James was back home the same day.

When he returned home, physical therapist Joe Baumgarden with Continuing and Home Care of Catholic Health began working with James. Joe helped with all kinds of movement techniques to promote healing and after couple of weeks, James was back to enjoying retired life on his 35-acre property in Niagara County.

"Joe is an ace PT and had answers to everything I needed, taking a very careful approach to healing while showing me exercises to strengthen my new hip," James recalls. "His confidence and knowledge gave me confidence to do the work and it made all the difference."

After being told he was "free to move about the cabin" by the surgeon, Joe was back to hunting in the fall and was even able to clean his gutters before the snow fell.

System support

Lawley Insurance was founded more than 60 years ago as a family business dedicated to helping people in Western New York, not only with insurance services but also through generous philanthropic support. The Lawley family has included Catholic Health System in that support since our own founding,

The insurance firm's philanthropy includes donations to Mercy Hospital's cardiac program; the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) at Sisters Hospital; the ICU renovation at Kenmore Mercy; and the Lockport Memorial Hospital project in Niagara County, among many other initiatives. Most recently, Lawley Insurance served as the presenting sponsor for Catholic Health's 25th Anniversary Gala.

In addition, Lawley family members have served in leadership positions on hospital boards and fund-raising campaign efforts for years. Kathy Lawley Best served on the Mercy Hospital Foundation and was active on the insurance firm's support of projects across the health system. Her brother, Michael Lawley, chaired the Sisters Hospital Foundation campaign that raised nearly $2 million to expand the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU). The firm's Michael Symoniak, Jr. serves on the Kenmore Mercy Foundation board of trustees and helped secure generous gifts for the hospital's Intensive Care Unit (ICU) renovation. Additionally, Mike Knott, insurance consultant at the firm, previously served on the Sisters Hospital Foundation board of trustees.

"As a third-generation business, Lawley is pleased to continue our family tradition of supporting the entire Catholic Health System," says Michael Lawley. "We understand that the combined efforts of the Foundations of Catholic Health help to serve the healthcare needs in every corner of our Western New York community."

One for all

An update on unification of the Foundations of Catholic Health

I am pleased to provide an update on the progress Catholic Health System has made in our long-planned strategy to unify our five hospital foundations into one – The Foundation of Catholic Health.

Late last year, the state Public Health and Health Planning Council signed off on the unification and the next steps in establishing one foundation are underway. The initial board of directors was selected, made up of five volunteer members, each of whom serves on one of our five Foundations that will be unified into one.

As the transition to one Foundation nears, we have already taken important steps toward unification. For example, this past October, for the first time, all five of the Foundations of Catholic Health came together to celebrate with one system gala, recognizing the achievements and dedicated team members across Catholic Health.

The foundations – Continuing and Home Care; Kenmore Mercy; Mercy Hospital; Mount St. Mary's Hospital; and Sisters Hospital – came together to raise funds specifically for staff education throughout the system. Over 600 supporters attended the gala to benefit all the foundations as a whole, raising more than $330,000 from the event. In addition, two golf tournaments were held last year – in Erie County and Niagara County – with funds raised to be shared among the five foundations.

We are grateful for the support of our donors, board members, and staff who have been with us throughout the process. We will provide updates on our website at CHSBuffalo.org/Foundations, as we move toward launching the Foundation of Catholic Health, another step forward in the right way to care.
